Germans Reach Leningrad Area, Berlin Says

FALL OF STRONG RUSSIAN REAR GUARD CLAIMED

Old Czarist Capital City Menaced, According To Reich Spokesmen

MOSCOW RAIDED AGAIN

Luftwaffe Causes Damage In Red Square; British Ports Assaulted

MOSCOW. July 23—Smolensk, 230 miles west of Moscow, still is in Russian hands, Reuters (British) news agency said it was learned in Moscow tonight. Germany claimed capture of Smolensk more than a week ago, and Nazi dispatches said the city was a flaming ruin.

NEW YORK. July 23—Russian troops have counter-attacked in the Smolensk sector of the Central Front, where the Germans were driving toward Moscow, a Moscow radio bulletin picked up today by NBC said.

BERLIN. July 23—German troops have reached the Leningrad area, it was indicated today in an official announcement saying that strong Red Army rear guards had been compelled to surrender near the old Czarist capital.

The Soviet troops were caught in a forest "in the Leningrad area," the announcement said, and were forced to yield when subjected to a heavy artillery barrage.

Direction of the German drive toward Leningrad—whether from the south, or the west along the Gulf of Finland, or from the Finnish front on the north—was not stated in the announcement. But an earlier official statement claimed a new victory for German and Finnish troops, further imperilling Leningrad on the northern sector of the Russian battle front.

Military authorities declared German and Finnish troops yesterday broke Russian resistance east of Lake Ladoga and penetrated deep into Russian territory, inflicting heavy losses on the Reds.

Simultaneously a second smashing night aerial attack on Moscow was announced.

Gains On All Sectors

While military spokesmen told of "tremendous damage" and huge fires in the second Moscow attack, a communiqué issued from Reichsführer Adolf Hitler's eastern front headquarters told of steady gains in all sectors.

The Finnish operations are proceeding "according to plan," the communiqué said, while in the Ukraine, Romanian, Hungarian and Slovak troops continued untiring pursuit of the fleeing enemy.

Moscow, Ancient Russian Capital, Bomb Target

FOR THE SECOND TIME SINCE THE OUTBREAK OF THE RUSSO-GERMAN WAR Moscow has been bombed by German warplanes. A flight of 200 planes participated in the first raid, doing damage to the Kremlin district (the heart of the city), causing a number of fires. The Russians claimed they downed 17 of the raiders. The second raid was Tuesday night.

PREPARATIONS BEING MADE FOR BIG STATE FAIR

Governor Would Make Ohio Event International One This Year

MAJOR PREMIUMS READY

"Streamlining" Attempted Beautiful Girls Will Be Hired For Ticket Jobs

COLUMBUS, July 23—The "biggest and best agricultural and industrial show in the world" this year promises to be bigger and better than ever.

Sponsors of the 91st Ohio State Fair, August 23 to 29, say they are streamlining their exposition to keep it in tune with the times. Even the National Defense program is having its effect on the giant show, but in a much less grim way than it affects other enterprises.

For, to meet the drain on manpower caused by the draft and defense industries, attractively-uniformed girls—"carefully selected for ability and beauty"—will be engaged as ticket sellers and ticket takers at all gates.

Spokesmen for the State Agricultural Department, which annually sponsors the fair, refused to state if the hiring of feminine ticket takers was what they meant when they promised to "streamline" their exposition. Neither did they say if the customary guard of highway patrolmen around the gates would be doubled. But behind-the-scenes investigation reveals that—regardless of their ability—the girls undoubtedly are beautiful.

Perhaps this may be a factor in persuading the ambassadors and ministers of the 21 Pan-American Republics to accept Governor Bricker's invitation to attend the fair. The governor designated opening day, August 25, as "Pan-American and Good Neighbor" Day, and said in his letters of invitation to the diplomats:

"We shall endeavor to make your visit worthwhile both personally and in the international good will."

International Now

Thus the fair, second oldest exposition of its kind in the country and known from coast to coast for its livestock and farm product shows, finally grows in international stature.

The famed livestock shows, of course, always had at least a bit of international flavor. Again they will attract nationwide attention. The sheep show was recognized as the most important in North America when the National Shropshire Breeders Association designated it as host to the National Shropshire Show this year.

It marks the first time the show ever has been held in connection with a State Fair. Usually it is held in connection with the National Livestock shows. Premiums for Shropshires will total $2,233, $1,000 more than last year. Premiums offered to breeders of Merinos, Rambouillet, Oxfords, Corriedales, Hampshires, Dorsets, Cheviots, Southdowns, Cotswolds, Lincolns and in wether classes boost the sheep prize total to $11,386, with an additional $579 to go to breeders of milch goats.

Horseshows, races and exhibits, of course, again will capture the largest share of cash premiums—more than $33,000. The ultra-swank horse show, held nightly in the huge coliseum and recognized as one of the biggest and most important in the country, offers awards of $19,000 in cash and trophies. Cash premiums offered to draft horse breeders total $10,898, split about evenly between the 37 Percheron and the 40 Belgian classes.

The five day racing program offers purses totaling $14,000, plus even more highly prized trophies. The purses range from the $500 offered for each of the nine overnight events to the $2,000 offered for the 2:15 Ohio pacing derby. A record entry of more than 300 trotters and pacers have been nominated for the eight closed events, which offer six $1,000 purses, one $1,500 purse, and one $2,000 purse.

Thrill Packed Adventure!

IT goes something like this: Frank Buck had a fine live pig in a pen; out of the adjacent Malay jungle at night glided a giant python. Into the pen went the python, and into the python went the pig! Then the monster reptile was too swollen with his gluttony to get out again—in the morning up came Frank Buck, and into a cage went a self-caught python! This is but one of many thrills from Frank Buck's "Jungle Cavalcade," which starts Sunday at the Grand Theatre for a four day run.

improve production of fats and porks, particular attention is being paid in the swine shows to futurity classes in an effort to encourage breeders to improve strains.

$10,943 For Hogs

Breeders of Duroc Jerseys, Hampshires, Poland Chinas, Berkshires, Chester Whites, Spotted Poland Chinas and Barrows are offered a new record-high premium list totaling $10,943. In addition, there will be a public auction of Barrows following the Barrow show Monday night.

More than 500 competitive classes, arranged for 48 breeds of chickens, 19 breeds of bantams, seven breeds of ducks, eight of geese, seven turkeys, offer prizes of $4,069 to poultry breeders.

Thus it may be seen that the fair is big business. But it has also its lighter side, offering entertainment in diverse ways.

A huge patriotic pageant—"By Dawn's Early Light"—depicting the founding, growth and development of the United States, will hold forth in the evenings in front of the grandstand. An extensively-remodeled building has been dedicated as music hall, in which all music, drama, dancing and other cultural organizations are invited to send representative groups.

More than 2,000 high school musicians will participate in band, instrumental and choral contests.

And talking of students, more than 3,000,000 free student tickets to the fair were distributed to boys and girls throughout the state.

A trailer camp will be provided in the grounds, and a 100-acre free parking lot will be established.

Ohio radio stations will broadcast from the fairgrounds.

FARMERS MAY BUY OWN HOME UNDER U.S. ACT

Tenant Purchase Applications Being Considered Now In Pickaway Office

COUNTY AREA ELIGIBLE
Cornell Copeland Outlines Various Regulations Of Program

Tenants and farm-labor families in Pickaway County who want to be considered for Bankhead-Jones tenant-purchase loans should file their applications immediately, advises Cornell E. Copeland, county supervisor for the Farm Security Administration.

Pickaway County is one of 16 new Ohio counties selected by U.S. Department of Agriculture for the tenant-purchase program.

Only a limited number of loans will be available in the county for the purchase of farms this year, Copeland said. Applications which are received first will be given first consideration.

A county tenant purchase committee will be set up within a few days to handle applications and make recommendations to the Farm Security Administration.

"Any renter or farm labor family which cannot get the necessary credit elsewhere is eligible to apply for a tenant-purchase loan," Copeland said. "The loans are payable over a 40-year period at 3 percent interest. They provide for purchase of the farm plus repair and alteration of buildings and land development where necessary."

The farm security supervisor explained that it will be necessary for the applicant to locate the farm to be purchased, which must be of a "family type", capable of being operated without help other than the members of the family, except during short peak labor periods, such as the threshing or corn-picking seasons.

In addition to choosing a farm, the family must work out a sound farm and home management plan. Mr. Copeland and the county home management supervisor, Miss Ethel Coseo, will cooperate with families obtaining loans and help them work out these management plans.

No loan will be considered unless the farm can be purchased at a price corresponding to its ability to produce, provide an adequate income for the family, and "pay for itself" over the loan period.

Application may be made at the Farm Security Administration office at the Court House.

CADET EXAMINATIONS TO BE STAGED IN AUGUST

College credits in six subjects now exempt Army Aviation Cadet candidates from educational examination, it was revealed today at Fifth Corps Area Headquarters, Fort Hayes, Columbus.

Non-college men who apply for scholarships will be examined August 12, 13 and 14 in the larger cities of Ohio, Kentucky, West Virginia and Indiana in five required subjects (English, arithmetic, plane geometry, plane trigonometry and algebra) and in any two of five electives (modern languages, general history, American history, inorganic chemistry and physics).

College men who have credit for any two electives and any four required subjects or for all five required subjects and one elective are exempt from the examination which embraces courses taught in most high schools.

Aviation cadet scholarships which pay $105 monthly plus a professional aeronautics education amount a $500 annual bonus.

VILLAGE 'DADS' ORDER TRAFFIC LIGHT REMOVED

By S. D. Fridley
Ashville, Phone 79

Ashville Village Council, by a vote of 3 to 2, has ordered the Long Street traffic light removed, and service department officials have already taken it from its place.

Thursday, the local Methodist Sunday school will hold a picnic at the park. All are invited, but a well filled basket of eats should appear along with your presence. This same evening the ball diamond will be the scene of action between a Columbus colored team of soft ballers and local picked bunch.

Ashville

Tuesday evening the Ed Irwin Insurance gang cleaned up the Millport Cubs in a sizzling hot game ballout, the score 2 to 1. This Wednesday evening the Gable Drugs and Irwins will do battle for a dispute settlement Gable and Irwin will do the pitching act for their respective teams.

Ashville

Good news beats the other kind all out. Got some of the first named direct from the boys who get things done, yesterday evening. Plans are in the making right now to light the park grounds for night ball games. And along with this, these substantial-backer boys, are doing the preliminary work for a swimming pool. And more: the prospects are really good for the first of those half-dozen new dwellings we told you last Spring, we intended to have before Christmas. Too, a sizable real estate deal is in the making and will be completed in a couple of days.

Ashville

And now about the mail-delivery job between the postoffice and the depot. Couldn't get head or tail about how things stacked up after bid time had closed. Couldn't get anybody to say a word, who had or hadn't put in a bid. But when the old mail cart went out for its run to the depot with Ed Ett furnishing the motor power, we could tell by the squeak of the wagon that it was well loaded with something and by this, we are guessing there are an even dozen bids for the job and in Washington right now being looked over by Sammy. What's your gamble on who'll be it? Chance to win, 1 to 12. Beats numbers all out.

Mrs. N. E. Murphy recently entertained her bridge club. Those attending were Mrs. A. W. Graham, Mrs. Cecil Noecker, Mrs. C. E. Mahaffey, Mrs. Stanley Beckett, Mrs. Tom Acord, and Mrs. Harold Silbaugh. Mrs. Noecker received high score and with it the customary winner's prize. Mrs. Walter Hedges and Mrs. D. P. Courtright were unable to be present. The next meeting of the club will be held at Mrs. Noecker's home, July 30.

"Following the ponies" both literally and figuratively, applies to John Hudson who has been away from his home on Walnut Street for the last three months. Hudson has been employed in the concession department connected with several race tracks in Ohio. Beginning with the Beulah Park meet in April, Hudson moved with the concession force to Akron for a couple of weeks and thence to the track at Hamilton where he has been until the races closed last week. After a few weeks rest work will be resumed with the August-September run at Beulah Park where the equipment has been stored. John reported a very good meeting at Hamilton and not so good at Beulah and Akron due to rain storms before and during races which kept the usual crowds away from the parks.

College men who have credit for any two electives and any four required subjects or for all five required subjects and one elective are exempt from the examination which embraces courses taught in most high schools.

NATURE PLUS TRAINING

DESPITE the desire of many young people in the last ten or twenty years to get into "white collar" jobs and the effort to prepare for them with college and other special training, there has remained in the public mind a curious distrust of book education as "impractical."

A newspaper writer was reminded again of this fact when he wrote recently that a hired girl "remains a hired girl" when she doesn't know any domestic science. Readers took him to task, hotly informing him that thousands of girls who never even heard of domestic science were better cooks and housekeepers than those who had studied it. They implied that such people were good because of their ignorance rather than in spite of it.

"It should be an axiom taught to all school children," the newspaper man answered, "that in all conceivable cases, the more you learn about your job the better you do it. To believe otherwise—to get the twisted notion that natural talent or technique gained empirically by trial and error is spoiled by the application of exact knowledge—is to overturn the entire theory of education."

Perhaps our grandparents knew that. Their craftsmanship had to be sound because they could not go to a store to replace things easily. But speed has become a goal rather than good work, and so training and education can be sneered at even in an age of specialization and stiff competition.

TWO-PURPOSE GLIDING

THE annual glider meet at Elmira, N. Y., ran into unfavorable weather, and some of the planned events had to be canceled. There was evidence, however, that gliding had ceased to be merely sport and had become serious business to those attending. Its leaders are taking a long look ahead both to military uses and to commercial possibilities when the war is over.

Colonel Edward S. Evans of Detroit, a pioneer in sail-plane experiments, believes that gliders may be the trains of the future.

"When this emergency is over," he said at the closing banquet of the glider meeting, "I can foresee the day when great glider freight trains will cross the country at speeds of 100 to 200 miles an hour. It will be the fastest, cheapest and most satisfactory freight transportation the world has ever known."

No matter how practical it may become, however, gliding will remain chiefly

WORLD AT A GLANCE . . . . .

SENATOR BURTON K. WHEELER'S entitled to be an isolationist. Nobody disputes it. But it's bitterly complained that he isn't entitled to give out, prematurely, military information, said to be of a sort calculated to keep Herr Hitler posted. That matter of an American base's establishment on Iceland is what's referred to. Burt heard of it before President Roosevelt told Congress, and broadcast the news immediately. Winston Churchill let out a howl on the subject. The White House intimated that it agrees with Winston. Thereupon Burt served notice that he'll circulate such stories as fast as he hears 'em, adding that he isn't answerable to Winston Churchill.

While that row was still sizzling Senators Robert A. Taft and John A. Danaher popped up with the report (also premature, if it's factual), still hotter than the Iceland item—to the effect that we're establishing a base at the northern end of Ireland. No more than Burt Wheeler, they say, are they going to allow themselves to be muzzled.

Well, that's quite a revolt. As good isolationists as any of 'em, Senators Bennett Champ Clark, Hiram W. Johnson and Gerald P. Nye doubtless would have been in on it, only I suppose they didn't have anything to reveal prematurely.

TINKHAM BALKS

Now Representative George Holden Tinkham of Boston is leading a new variety of rebellion. Naturally it's new, for there's nothing hackneyed about George Tinkham. He's as prominent as any senator.

In Congress he's perfectly ferocious. Between sessions he goes to Africa to kill lions and rogue elephants. He has the fiercest set of whiskers in Washington—ex-Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes' set aren't a circumstance compared with George's.

I imagine the whole country's heard of the capital's congestion for governmental emergency office room. Uncle Sam's employees have vastly overflowed every square inch of his regular accommodations for 'em. He's been commanding whole hotel floors, apartment houses and private residences for desk space to install 'em in.

Finally he got around to the Dupont apartment structure, one of the classiest edifices of its kind in the District of Columbia, twelve stories high and chockful of senators' representatives' and miscellaneous awful nobby individuals' families.

TENANTS REBEL

Taking over this building bodily the government ordered all these tenants to vacate in a hurry. But about sixty households of 'em had leases. One was George Tinkham's. George organized 'em, overnight, into a solid block of resistance. They won't move. It'll pretty well take the United States army to evict them.

Rationing of other things than living quarters is beginning to be discussed on a scale to make the average consumer's hair curl.

Rationing of new autos isn't so bad, for a lot of used cars are available. Besides, it'll be blessing to pedestrians to have the number reduced. Gasoline rationing will be fine, too, reducing the speed peril. Parenthetically, I'm a 100 percent pedestrian. I've got a washing machine already. I use ice in my house, instead of an electric refrigerator and I don't need any machine tools. So Uncle Sam can limit that kind of production to his heart's content, for all I care.

ROLL YOUR OWN?

But today it's hinted that we may have to resort to rolling our own cigarettes, to save on the expense by our big factories. Likewise suggested is a rationing of cork, required in liquid refreshment's bottlenecks. Such threats begin to look alarming.

By the way, George Miller, National Press Club chief bartender, advances the thesis that drinking beer out of tin cans is a patriotic act, because it releases that much tin for defensive purposes.

And prices of everything? Congress has deferred putting a legislative ceiling on 'em until fall. National Price Fixer Leon Henderson tries to keep 'em down by moral suasion, but they crawl upward in spite of him. What bothers Congress is how to hit on a law that'll make salesmen go on selling at a loss, maybe.

LIBERIA LOOMS AS OUTPOST

WASHINGTON—For just about one century the African Republic of Liberia has been a pain in the neck to the United States government. But now, at long last, it may justify the headaches it has caused in Washington. It may be another Iceland.

Liberia, meaning a "free country," was founded even before the Civil War by American negroes who sought to establish a free black republic and lead a movement "Back to Africa." The idea was encouraged by abolitionist leaders in New England, and the colony had an auspicious start.

However, American negroes transplanted to Africa later became slave-owners themselves, and established a lively trade selling their own brethren from the jungle to plantation owners.

This trade of blacks selling blacks got so bad that irate Henry L. Stimson, then Secretary of State, practically forced the resignation of the president of Liberia. Stimson stamped out the slave trade and Liberia has been fairly clean since.

Liberia always has been under the protection of the United States. Its government operates partly on funds borrowed from the U. S. government, and its customs are watched by a U. S. collector. A friendly U. S. gunboat drops in at its ports from time to time, and U. S. Minister Lester Walton, a Harlem newspaper editor, carries great weight in the affairs of the country.

Now suddenly, with the hasty Nazi-supervised arming of French Dakar, Liberia is coming to have great importance. It is located south of Dakar in an area friendly to Great Britain and the United States and which could be used to protect the coast of South America.

For some time military strategists have driven home to the White House and State Department the very great importance of West Africa in preserving the Monroe Doctrine. For if a hostile army gains control of West Africa, the hop across the south Atlantic to Brazil and Uruguay is relatively easy for modern bombing planes.

The Vichy government has now openly admitted the arming of Dakar against the United States, and Free Frenchmen escaping from North Africa have reported that about 3,500 Nazi technicians were busy in Dakar and other parts of French Northwest Africa installing coast artillery and building air bases.

However, south of Dakar and near Liberia, de Gaulle Frenchmen are in control. Thus this part of equatorial Africa is being studied carefully as a base from which U. S. forces might operate to block Nazi operations against the Western Hemisphere.

NOTE—Since the fall of Ethiopia, Liberia is the only free country on the entire continent of Africa, and it has remained so only because of the United States.

And by wide removal is meant just that. The tragedies occur when attempts are made to remove them by monkeying with them—burning them, shaving off the top, corrosive plasters, etc. Nobody can miss one of the blue moles. ## Hundred Guests Enjoy Church Unit Silver Tea

Presbyterian Group Entertains At Watt Home

More than 100 guests called during the afternoon and evening periods Tuesday when Division 1 of the Presbyterian Church entertained at a Silver Tea at the home of Mrs. Donald H. Watt, North Court Street. Masses of lovely summer garden flowers, including many baskets of colorful gladioli and snapdragons, made the rooms of the Watt home a seasonal setting for the delightful affair.

The tea table in the dining room with its appointments of silver and crystal was centered with an artistic arrangement of blue and white double delphinium, pink rosebuds and baby breath in a crystal holder, flanked with tall white candles.

Mrs. Marvin Dreisbach, division chairman, and Mrs. Watt were assisted in receiving by Mrs. E. O. Crites, Mrs. Orin W. Dreisbach, Miss Mary May Haswell and Mrs. G. G. Campbell, who served in the afternoon, with Miss Mary Crites, Miss Ruth Robinson, Miss Bonita Hulse and Miss Eleanor Dreisbach serving in the evening.

Mrs. Felix Caldwell, Mrs. Turney Glick, Mrs. George Goodchild, Mrs. E. S. Roper and Mrs. E. E. Porter assisted in the dining room. Mrs. Charles Kiger, Mrs. Charles Naumann, Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. Harry Stevenson and Mrs. S. B. Chambers poured.

All members of the division served on the general committee for the outstanding social affair.

Auxiliary Picnic

The annual picnic meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary was held Tuesday at the summer home of Mrs. Erma Young of Scioto Township, where a representative group gathered for the evening.

A picnic dinner was served at 7 p.m. at a long table in the grove in front of the cottage.

Mrs. B. T. Hedges, auxiliary president, conducted the regular business meeting during the evening, receiving various reports from Mrs. John Ward, secretary, and Mrs. Robert Young, treasurer. Mrs. Orin W. Dreisbach, chairman of the community welfare project committee, reported that the proposed supervised recreation room for young people of high school age could not be established at the present time.

A short time was devoted to discussion of plans for attending the coming state convention to be held at Youngstown in August.

Mrs. Hedges appointed Mrs. Walter M. Stout chairman of the nominating committee with Mrs. James Stout and Miss Hilda Burns as the other committee members.

Members of the auxiliary will meet Thursday at 2 p.m. in the Post room, Memorial Hall, to count sales tax stamps.

Star Grange
A Juvenile order was organized Tuesday at the meeting of Star Grange. Mrs. Turney Glick, county juvenile matron, being in charge of the work. Mrs. C. M. Reid will head the juvenile grange.

Mr. Reid, worthy master, conducted the regular business session, four applications for membership being read. Mrs. Ben Grace, lecturer of Scioto Grange, invited Star grange to present a drill at the meeting of the Scioto Grange August 6, this session marking the 'friendship night' of the organization.

Plans were discussed for the annual picnic of Star Grange which will be August 5 at Gold Cliff Park. Thirty-five grangers were present.

Refreshments were served by the hospitality committee including Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Brigner, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mathews, Mr. and Mrs. Glick of Washington Grange were present for the evening.

Shower Honors Bride
Mrs. Berman Fausnaugh, the former Ollie Carlton of near Circleville, was honored at a miscellaneous shower recently at the home of Mrs. Wayne Hines of near Ashville. Miss Hulda Frazier was assisting hostess.

Games and contests were enjoyed throughout the evening. The many lovely and useful gifts for the bride were placed on the dining room table, the shower arrangements featuring a pink and white color theme. Garden flowers completed the decorations of the home.

Refreshments were served, the

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Younkin of near Commercial Point are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Marjorie, to Mr. Harold Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Coit Wilson of Ashville, Route 2.

The wedding will be an event of August 6, the Rev. L. W. Green officiating at the ceremony which will be at the home of the bride's parents.

Luther League Picnic

The Senior and Junior Luther Leagues of the Trinity Lutheran Church had a joint picnic Tuesday at the Pickaway County Home, where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Mowery.

About 40 were present for the evening. Games of volleyball and baseball were enjoyed preceding the picnic dinner served at 8 p.m.

Scioto Valley Grange

A baby picture contest occupied members of Scioto Valley Grange during the lecture hour of the Tuesday session in the grange hall, north of Ashville, each granger taking his baby picture to the meeting.

Miss Altha Pierce received the prize for guessing correctly the identities of the 21 of the 25 pictures entered. Mrs. Dorothy Cook received the trophy for the prettiest entry.

Riddle to Take Mound in Quest Of 12th Victory

Brooklyn Unable To Stop World's Champs Who Score Five Runs In Ninth Inning

CINCINNATI, July 23—Elmer Riddle, Cincinnati's rookie hurling sensation, was to go after his 12th straight victory against the slipping Brooklyn Dodgers under the lights at Crosley Field tonight.

The Dodgers showed definite signs of a mid-season collapse yesterday as they blew a 4 to 0 lead in the last half of the ninth to enable the Redlegs to defeat them, 5 to 4.

The loss shoved the Dodgers into a first-place tie with St. Louis.

Luke Hamlin had a shutout going into that last frame. Lonnie Frey opened the inning with a double and Frank McCormick promptly singled him home. Billy Werber walked and Hamlin made two more wide pitches to Dick West before he was waved to the showers.

Hugh Casey came in and completed the job of walking West and filling the bases. Chuck Aleno came up to the plate as a pinch-hitter and hit a lucky triple down the right-field foul line, scoring three runs and tying the score.

Bucky Walters, who was on the mound for the Reds and who is no mean slouch at the bat, strode up to the plate and hit a long fly to center field scoring the winning run. It was Walters' 12th victory of the season and moved the Reds into undisputed third place, nine games off the pace.

To oppose Riddle tonight, the Dodgers were expected to call upon Kirby Higbe.

ENVOY TO VICHY 'VOICES TOKYO'S NEED FOR BASES

No Time Limit Disclosed;
Von Ribbentrop Meets
Nippon's Envoy

Shanghai that Japan is on the verge of an important decision.

TOKYO, July 23—Authoritative Japanese sources, according to the official news agency Domei, today branded as "pure fabrication" a Washington report to the effect that Japan has inaugurated censorship of press messages. Restrictions have merely been placed on the use of foreign languages in outgoing telegrams and telephone conversations, it was said.

TOKYO, July 23—A charge that the United States is "deliberately discriminating against Japanese seas" by preventing them from passing through the Panama Canal was aired by the Japanese (Domei) news agency today.

According to the agency the accussion was set forth by "informed quarters" in the Japanese capital.
Domei added:

"Some quarters assert the real reason is that the United States is attempting to prevent the Japanese from observing the nature of repairs now going on in the canal."

Official Japan Angry

The charges with regard to the Panama Canal—one of the most important of all United States strategic defense outposts—followed an editorial outburst in Japanese newspapers accusing American, British and Soviet diplomats of "trying to form a united front against Japan."

This in turn followed an official Japanese warning that Tokyo would take "immediate measures" to counter any British military move in French Indo-China.

Japanese newspapers declared
Britain, by assigning Alfred Duff Cooper to a Far Eastern mission, and by strengthening Singapore's defenses, was assuming leadership in the alleged front against Nip-pon—and thus creating a "disturbance in Japan's Far Eastern policy."

The Singapore radio, according to a Reuters dispatch, broadcast an official denial of Japanese reports that British forces had violated the Indo-Chinese frontier, or were preparing to "invade" Indo-China. Shanghai reports, meanwhile, told of Japanese troop mobilizations along the Soviet Siberian border and at other strategic centers in the Far East.

Typical of Japanese press comment was an editorial by the newspaper Yomiuri which said British Far Eastern policy is "becoming more active."

The paper declared the mission of Duff Cooper, replaced a few days ago as British information minister, is to prepare "cooperation with the Soviet Union" in support of the anti-Japanese government of Chinese Generalissimo
Chiang Kai-Shek.

Toyoada Sees Envoy

Vice Admiral Teijiro Toyoada, the new Japanese foreign minister, who has promised to live up to the spirit and aims of the tripartite axis pact, held a two-hour conference with Mamoru Shigemitsu, Japanese ambassador to Britain who returned to Tokyo Sunday.
They discussed the European situation with special reference to Britain and her position in the war.

(Editor's Note: In London the Daily Express stated in a Shanghai dispatch that reports from North China and Manchukuo indicate Japan is concentrating a large force at points dominating Russia's Far Eastern frontier. The dispatch said Japanese living at Shanghai have been ordered to report for mobilization to replace the regular formations now en route north.)

The London News Chronicle said Japan is likely to take action to obtain control of naval and air bases in French Indo-China before the end of this week, according to information reaching London.

(The paper said it was believed Anglo-American discussions regarding steps to be taken in such an event had ended in complete agreement.)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23—Drastic restrictions have been placed by the Japanese government on radio and cable messages to Japan, it was revealed in San Francisco today by RCA communications officials.

The new rules, effective immediately and applying to all trans-
Pacific services, include the following:

1—Only official business or distress messages may be sent to Japanese ships at sea.

2—Only the Japanese, English, or German language will be permitted in non-code messages to any part of the Japanese empire.

3—Code messages may be sent only to Tokyo, Yokohama, Kobe, and Osaka, and only six standard codes are permitted.

4—The recipient's full name and

Railroad to Spend $30,000 Strengthening Scioto Span

Three Month Job Under Way on Pennsylvania Rails West Of City

TRAFFIC TO CONTINUE
40 Foot Concrete Piling Being Driven To Hold New Abutment

A bridge repair project, estimated to cost $30,000, has been started by the Pennsylvania Railroad at the Scioto River crossing west of Circleville.

The building program is expected to take three months to complete. It consists of installing a new span at the east end of the Scioto River bridge. The new span will increase the length of the 4-span bridge by about 55 feet.

Iron work for the span will weigh about 250 tons according to John P. Inglesby, Chicago, superintendent of the Strobel Construction Company crew of 15 men now working on the bridge.

Workmen now are driving 40 foot concrete piling at the east end of the bridge to support the new abutment. The piles are 16 inches in diameter. Twenty-seven of them will be driven into the ground and a 20 foot by 14 foot concrete pier constructed around them to support the east end of the new bridge span.

Traffic Goes On

While the construction work is going on, wood piling will be driven into the river bed to support the rails so that trains may continue to pass over the bridge. Trains are expected to pass over the river uninterrupted while the new span is being built.

Iron work for the span, including ten panels 17 feet long, will be brought to Circleville within the next few weeks. The material was taken from another bridge.

When the new span has been completed Pennsylvania employees will remove 200 cubic yards of dirt from beneath the bridge, thereby straightening the stream bed of the Scioto River to prevent the current from cutting into the embankment.

Principal equipment now being used on the project consists of a 30 ton crane and a four ton pile driver. All but two of the fifteen men working on the job are from the Circleville community.

The old bridge span to be removed has been there since 1885. The new span will leave the Pennsylvania tracks in good repair to handle the heavier traffic which is expected because of the National Defense program.

NON-RESIDENT HUNTING LICENSES ARE RECEIVED

Non-resident hunting licenses arrived at the Clerk of Courts' office in the Court House Wednesday and were placed on sale immediately.

Non-resident licenses this year cost $15. The fee previously charged was the same amount as that charged by the state of which the applicant was a resident.

Not many non-resident licenses are sold in the county, Clerk of Courts A. L. Wilder said. Two were sold last year.

May Plead "Unwritten Law"

Maurice Briggs

Betty Briggs

DEFENSE counsel for Maurice Briggs, 26, on trial in Los Angeles on charge of murdering Nat Rosenberg, a rug factory manager, may plead the "unwritten law," it was indicated. Briggs declares that Rosenberg came between him and Mrs. Briggs, bringing about their separation, by forcing his attentions on the young wife. Both had been employed in Rosenberg's factory at time of their estrangement.

VILLAGE CHILD, 26 INJURED AS YOUTH DRIVES AUTO IN CROWD

COLUMBUS, July 23—Nineteen-year-old Donald Hedrick of nearby Canal Winchester was held in the juvenile detention center today after allegedly admitting having set the fire which destroyed the Hedrick home and fatally burned his four-year-old half-sister, Mary Lucille.

Officials said Donald also admitted setting two other fires which kept the town in an uproar all yesterday. Mary Lucille, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hedrick, died as she sought to escape the dense smoke and fell on the flaming floor of an upstairs bedroom.

Although a passing motorist climbed up a ladder and rescued the four-year-old girl, she was dead on arrival at a Columbus hospital.

Coroner Edward E. Smith said Donald admitted firing the Hedrick home and two other buildings in Canal Winchester. Donald was suspected, Coroner Smith said, after he appeared at the Canal Winchester Times for a second time yesterday to report a fire.

Previously to the blaze at the Hedrick home, fires had broken out in the garage of the David's Reformed Church parsonage and at the Brown Bros. Paint Co., where damage totaled $1,300. Damage to the Hedrick home was estimated at $1,500.

OUR WAY of re-roofing is the safest way of all. First we go over your old roof and nail down thoroughly all loose and broken shingles, and fill up all open places. Then we apply genuine Logan-Long Slate-surfaced Shingles right over the old roof—and it's on to stay. In this method of re-roofing, the interior of your home is not exposed to rain and weather, as it would be if the old shingles were first ripped off. Our way is quicker, neater, safer. And it saves you money in two ways: First, there is no labor cost in taking off the old shingles. Second, you save on heating bills, because your old roof stays on and helps insulate your home against cold. Also, it helps keep the sun's heat out in summer. But let us give you more information about this modern way of re-roofing: phone us now.

Athletic Club Members At Organization Meeting Slash Dues

Circleville Athletic Club members met in their new club rooms in the Bales Building Tuesday night, nominated and elected new officers and made plans for future activity of the club.

John Heiskell was elected president of the new organization; Morris Gordon, vice-president; Ned Hitchcock, secretary-treasurer and John Laughlin, sergeant of arms.

Following the election, the new officers were authorized by club members to draw up the new constitution and by-laws. Among the changes in the rules of the club will be a reduction of dues from 75 to 50 cents monthly. Meetings will be held every month and the club rooms will be open at all times for members. Tentative date for the next meeting was set for August 19.

The Athletic Club moved to its new location on the second floor of the Bales Building on East Main Street July 1 after selling its property on East Main Street to the Zinn Company in Columbus.

Charles Horvath and Kenneth Kearney, representatives of a Columbus amusement company remodeling the old CAC buildings, announced early this week that their firm would spend $35,000 in reconstruction of the club gymnasium, making it into a ten-drive bowling alley and establishing a restaurant in the building.

CHRISTMAS IN JULY?: IT'S TRUE AT BUTCH'S

If you want to get away from summer heat and have a good imagination, here is a suggestion. Start thinking about Christmas.

If you need some help to think of Christmas, L. M. Butch Co., jewelers, have decorated Christmas window at their store at 163 West Main Street featuring old Santa Claus surrounded by hundreds of Christmas gifts.

Santa, wearing his furs and heaviest suit to keep warm, is standing beside a calendar which shows that it is only five months or 130 shopping days until Christmas.

This novel Christmas window in July is L. M. Butch Co.'s method of announcing the opening of the 1941 Christmas Lay-a-way Club.

Pickaway County Outdoors

The pheasant distribution for Pickaway County for this year has been planned as follows:

Nine townships of the county which are larger or possess better pheasant habitat will receive more birds than the other townships. In February and in June a total of 147 mature birds were released. Approximately 800 birds will be released from the 4-week-old birds which are received largely from the Harlow Project in Newark. In addition to these releases about 250 9-week-old birds will be received from the State Game Farm at Urbana. Thus, there will be a total of approximately 1,200 birds released in the county this year.

The larger townships and those possessing better pheasant habitat will receive approximately 86 birds while the other townships will receive approximately 66 birds.

The distribution in each township will be in general charge of the township director, an official of the Farmers and Sportsmen's Association.

Instead of releasing birds in many townships when a lot of birds is ready for release a block of townships will receive its full quota as far as possible. Last Sunday the first young pheasants were ready for release and the first block of townships, which block had been decided by lot, consisting of Madison, Walnut, Circleville and Washington, received the full quota, with exception of Walnut which did not receive its complete quota because there were not enough birds in the lot ready for release. Walnut's total will be completed at the next distribution. At the next release Deer Creek, Muhlenberg, Monroe, and Perry Townships will receive their quotas as far as possible.

Evidence obtained by the Ohio Division of Conservation and Natural Resources shows that fish stocked by the Division are easier to catch in the Spring than those stocked in the Fall.

A summary of 1,863 fish tags returned from all parts of the State, including adult smallmouth black bass, largemouth black bass, rock bass, walleye pike, crappies, bluegills, channel catfish and suckers, shows that the greater portion of the tagged fish released in the spring are usually caught within one month and a large part are taken during the first week after being released.

The same species of adult fish stocked in the fall are very rarely ever caught the first week and most of them are taken from four to nine months later. After the first year stocked, tagged fish are seldom heard from.

Channel catfish placed in headwater streams throughout the state immediately start to move downstream and may travel long distances while those planted in big waters may move with the current but not as far as the catfish released upstream.

With a few exceptions the bulk of stocked fish travel downstream with the current. Dams up to 65 feet high will slow up their movements but will not necessarily stop them. Positive evidence shows that spring released breeder smallmouth black bass and rock bass may spawn in their new environment and these fish may deposit eggs if suitable breeding areas are available or provided for them.

Germans Reach Leningrad Area, Berlin Says

FALL OF STRONG RUSSIAN REAR GUARD CLAIMED

Old Czarist Capital City Menaced, According To Reich Spokesmen

MOSSOW RAIDED AGAIN

Luftwaffe Causes Damage In Red Square; British Ports Assaulted

MOSCOW, July 23—Smolensk, 230 miles west of Moscow, still is in Russian hands, Reuters (British) news agency said it was learned in Moscow tonight. Germany claimed capture of Smolensk more than a week ago, and Nazi dispatches said the city was a flaming ruin.

NEW YORK, July 23—Russian troops have counter-attacked in the Smolensk sector of the Central Front, where the Germans were driving toward Moscow, a Moscow radio bulletin picked up today by NBC said.

PERLIN, July 23—German troops have reached the Leningrad area, it was indicated today in an official announcement saying that strong Red Army rear guards had been compelled to surrender near the old Czarist capital.

The Soviet troops were caught in a forest "in the Leningrad area," the announcement said, and were forced to yield when subjected to a heavy artillery barrage.

Direction of the German drive toward Leningrad—whether from the south, or the west along the Gulf of Finland, or from the Finnish front on the north—was not stated in the announcement. But an earlier official statement claimed new victory for German and Finnish troops, further imperiling Leningrad on the northern sector of the Russian battle front.

Military authorities declared German and Finnish troops yesterday broke Russian resistance east of Lake Ladoga and penetrated deep into Russian territory, inflicting heavy losses on the Reds.

Simultaneously a second smashing night aerial attack on Moscow was announced.

Gains On All Sectors

While military spokesmen told of "tremendous damage" and huge fires in the second Moscow attack, a communiqué issued from Reichsführer Adolf Hitler's eastern front headquarters told of steady gains in all sectors.

The Finnish operations are proceeding "according to plan," the communiqué said, while in the Ukraine, Romanian, Hungarian and Slovak troops continued untrusting pursuit of the fleeing enemy.

"Other parts of the eastern front development and annihilation of small and large enemy."

Bookies' To Cease Activity?

Capital City Gambling Campaign Causes Race Men To Close Doors

Grand jury investigation of gambling in Columbus and Franklin County and a report that a number of race horse bookies in Columbus had closed "indefinitely" led to speculation in Circleville on how seriously gambling in Circleville had been curtailed as a result of the investigation.

Unofficial reports were that one race horse bookie operating in Circleville might be affected, but the sale of numbers was not expected to be curtailed. Numbers writers made their usual rounds Wednesday morning, according to unofficial reports and at the usual hour pickup men and women drove north to meet their Columbus contacts men.

Policemen Wednesday said that with the exception of slot machines in various private Circleville clubs, they knew of no games of chance being operated

FOUR RED CROSS NURSES ARRIVE SAFELY IN PORT

PORSCHEMOUTH, Va., July 23—Four American Red Cross nurses received treatment at the Naval Base Hospital today after telling the dramatic story of their rescue from an open boat in the North Atlantic July 5.

The nurses, who drifted about in the ocean for 12 days after their vessel was torpedoed June 24 by a German submarine, landed at Norfolk last night from Iceland and were immediately transferred to the Navy Hospital.

The group, whose rescue by an American destroyer of the neutrality patrol had been announced earlier, were part of some 65 who volunteered to go to England for service with the Red Cross Harvard Hospital there.

On the road to recovery after suffering severe frostbite and exposure, the four nurses are Rachel St. Pierre, Amesbury, Mass.; Marion Blissett, Kalkaska, Mich.; Victoria Pelo, Auburn, N. Y.; Lilian Pesnicak, Albany, N. Y.

Their rescue and that of two other nurses landed in Ireland July 18 leaves missing four nurses from the vessel.

Arriving with the women aboard a U. S. Army transport was also Marine Corps Corporal E. H. MacAllister, who reportedly had his heel shot off in an accident in Iceland shortly after American occupation of the island. Naval officials denied he had been hurt when the Dutch steamer Marsdam carrying 17 Red Cross nurses and a contingent of marines for duty with the American embassy in London, was torpedoed June 30.

PREPARATIONS BEING MADE FOR BIG STATE FAIR

Governor Would Make Ohio Event International One This Year

MAJOR PREMIUMS READY

"Streamlining" Attempted Beautiful Girls Will Be Hired For Ticket Jobs

COLUMBUS, July 23—The "biggest and best agricultural and industrial show in the world" this year promises to be bigger and better than ever.

Sponsors of the 91st Ohio State Fair, August 23 to 29, say they are streamlining their exposition to keep it in tune with the times. Even the National Defense program is having its effect on the giant show, but in a much less grim way than it affects other enterprises.

For, to meet the drain on manpower caused by the draft and defense industries, attractively uniformed girls—"carefully selected for ability and beauty"—will be engaged as ticket sellers and ticketholders at all gates.

Spokesmen for the State Agricultural Department, which annually sponsors the fair, refused to state if the hiring of feminine ticket takers was what they meant when they promised to "streamline" their exposition. Neither did they say if the customary guard of highway patrolmen around the gates would be doubled. But behind-the-scenes investigation reveals that—regardless of their ability—the girls undoubtedly are beautiful.

Perhaps this may be a factor in persuading the ambassadors and ministers of the 21 Pan-American Republics to accept Governor Bricker's invitation to attend the fair. The governor designated opening day, August 25, as "Pan-American and Good Neighbor" Day, and said in his letters of invitation to the diplomats:

"We shall endeavor to make your visit worthwhile both personally and in the international good will."

International Now

Thus the fair, second oldest exposition of its kind in the country and known from coast to coast for its livestock and farm product shows, finally grows in international stature.

The famed livestock shows, of course, always had at least a bit of international flavor. Again they will attract nationwide attention. The sheep show was recognized as the most important in North America when the National Shropshire Breeders Association designated it as host to the National Shropshire Show this year.

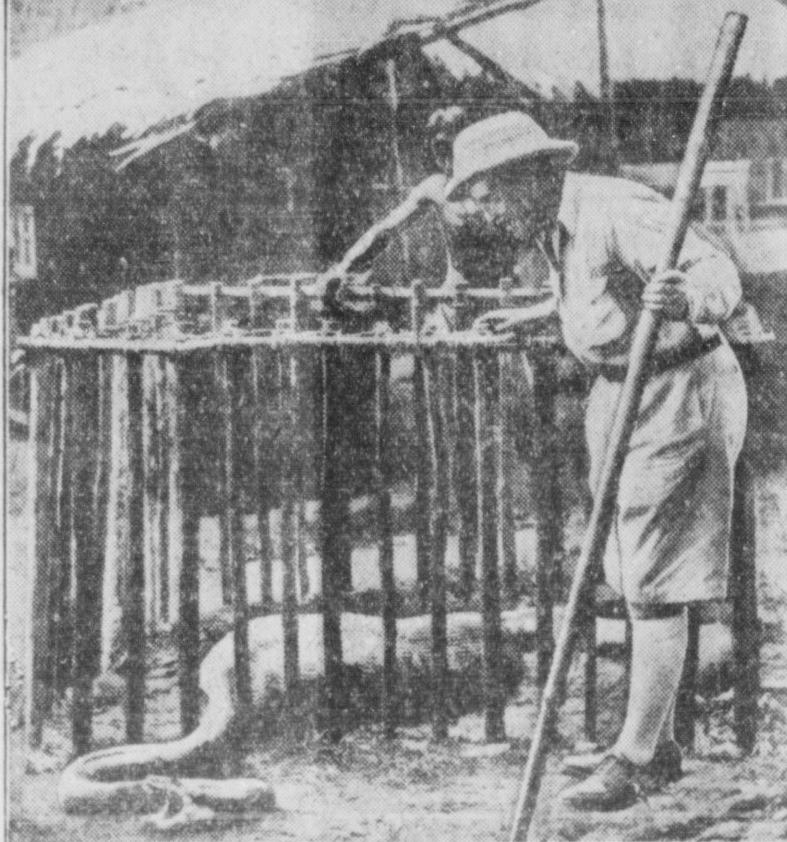

It marks the first time the show ever has been held in connection with a State Fair. Usually it is held in connection with the National Livestock Shows. Premiums for Shropshires will total $2,233, $1,000 more than last year. Premiums offered to breeders of Merinos, Rambouillet, Oxfords, Corderales, Hampshires, Dorsets, Cheviots, Southdowns, Cotswolds, Lincolns and in wether classes boost the sheep prize total to $11,386, with an additional $579 to go to breeders of milk goats.

Horseshows, races and exhibits, of course, again will capture the largest share of cash premiums—more than $33,000. The ultra-swank horse show, held nightly in the huge coliseum and recognized as one of the biggest and most important in the country, offers awards of $19,000 in cash and trophies. Cash premiums offered to draft horse breeders total $10,899, split about evenly between the 37 Percherons and the 40 Belgian classes.

The five day racing program offers purses totaling $14,000, plus even more highly prized trophies. The purses range from the $500 offered for each of the nine overnight events to the $2,000 offered for the 2:15 Ohio pacing derby. A record entry of more than 300 trotters and pacers have been nominated for the eight closed events, which offer six $1,000 purses, one $1,500 purse, and one $2,000 purse.

Thrill Packed Adventure!

IT goes something like this: Frank Buck had a fine live pig in a pen; out of the adjacent Malay jungle at night glided a giant python. Into the pen went the python, and into the python went the pig! Then the monster reptile was too swollen with his glutinous to get out again—so in the morning up came Frank Buck, and into a cage went a self-caught python! This is but one of many thrills from Frank Buck's "Jungle Cavalcade," which starts Sunday at the Grand Theatre for a four day run.

improve production of fats and porks, particular attention is being paid in the swine shows to future classes in an effort to encourage breeders to improve strains.

$10,943 For Hogs

Breeders of Duroc Jerseys, Hampshires, Poland Chinas, Berkshires, Chester Whites, Spotted Poland Chinas and Barrows are offered a new record-high premium list totaling $10,943. In addition, there will be a public auction of Barrows following the Barrow show Monday night.

More than 500 competitive classes, arranged for 49 breeds of chickens, 19 breeds of bantams, seven breeds of ducks, eight of geese, seven of turkeys, offer prizes of $4,069 to poultry breeders.

Thus it may be seen that the fair is big business. But it has also its lighter side, offering entertainment in diverse ways.

A huge patriotic pageant—"By Dawn's Early Light"—depicting the founding, growth and development of the United States, will hold forth in the evenings in front of the grandstand. An extensively-remodeled building has been dedicated as music hall, in which all music, drama, dancing and other cultural organizations are invited to send representative groups.

More than 2,000 high school musicians will participate in band, instrumental and choral contests. And talking of students, more than 3,000 free student tickets to the fair were distributed to boys and girls throughout the state.

A trailer camp will be provided in the grounds, and a 100-acre free parking lot will be established. Six Ohio radio stations will broadcast from the fairgrounds. The highway department's road show, the conservation department's exhibit of fish and wild life—featuring a 100-foot forest observation tower—displays of ag-

GROUP FORMS TO FIGHT FOR CITY MANAGEMENT

MRS. ELIZABETH MORRIS, NATIVE OF CITY, DIES

WASHINGTON C. H., July 23—A Good Government League of Washington C. H. has been organized to support a campaign to keep city manager form of government.

The new organization elected officers, who were empowered to call on other members of the league to serve on special committees and to perform such other duties as may be required throughout the campaign.

The officers include: Walter Patton, chairman, Arthur H. Finley, vice-chairman; Eugene L. Smith, secretary, and Roy Reno, treasurer. Purpose of the organization, according to reports, was to "acquaint the public with facts regarding the present form of city government in an effort to insure the retention of the city manager plan when the question comes up for a vote in this city at the special election set for Tuesday, August 5."

Purpose of the organization, according to reports, was to "acquaint the public with facts regarding the present form of city government in an effort to insure the retention of the city manager plan when the question comes up for a vote in this city at the special election set for Tuesday, August 5."

Mrs. Elizabeth Morris, native of Circleville, died Tuesday at 2:50 p.m. at the home of her son, Thomas Van Lear, Black Lick, O. Mrs. Morris, who was 88, had been ill six years.

She was born December 1, 1852, a daughter of James and Martha Doolin Griffey. She was twice married, first to Samuel Van Lear and second to William Morris, both of whom are dead. Her only survivors are the son at whose home she died, a brother Frank Griffey of Ashville, 10 grandchildren and 23 great-grandchildren. A daughter, Mrs. Mary Buchanan, Lancaster, died last month. She was a sister of the late Silas Griffey of Circleville.

Inconsistency of AAA Hit By Ohio Official

COLUMBUS, July 23—"Farmer Brown" today lent his moral support to Ohio wheat growers protesting the 40-cent penalty provision of the AAA.

Emphasizing that he was speaking solely as a farmer and not as the state's director of agriculture, John T. Brown, who incidentally has adhered strictly to AAA quotas on his own four farms, declared that the farmers have a right to raise their voices "in an orderly manner" against two provisions in particular of the AAA act.

"I'm speaking as 'Farmer Brown,'" he said. "For as director of agriculture these AAA quotas are none of my business. The department has too much to do to enter an argument over a subject which is not within the province of the AAA act.

"But I do feel personally that the farmers of the state have a legitimate reason for complaint against the two most-protested AAA provisions.

"One is that the penalty for excess wheat has been raised from 15 cents, announced at seeding time, to 40 cents in May, six months after the wheat was in the ground.

"The other is the inconsistency of the federal government in begging us to produce more pork and beef for National Defense, then refusing to allow us to feed our excess wheat to our livestock.

"The surplus wheat should be permitted to be fed to our hogs and cattle, thus producing more meat for the National Defense program."

The voice of "Farmer Brown," even when he is not speaking as the state's agriculture director, carries much weight in Ohio. In addition to his own four farms, he is vice-president of Farm Management, Inc., the largest farm operating service in Ohio, which manages about 225 farms, totaling 75,000 acres, for absentee owners.

"On all of our farms we have cooperated with the AAA and have remained within our allotments," he said. "The penalty provisions have not cost us one dollar. We have always felt that we should work with the federal agency in order that the AAA might have an ample opportunity to prove its worth.

"But I sincerely believe that, at least insofar as the above two provisions of the AAA are concerned, the Ohio farmer, who did not approve the AAA quota system although it was endorsed nationally, has a definitely justified right to protest."

Brown, who has attended none of the dozens of protest meetings held throughout the state, warned, however, against any drastic steps on the part of the farmer.

Tenant Purchase Applications Being Considered Now In Pickaway Office

COUNTY AREA ELIGIBLE

Cornell Copeland Outlines Various Regulations Of Program

Tenants and farm labor families in Pickaway County who want to be considered for Bankhead-Jones tenant-purchase loans should file their applications immediately, advises Cornell E. Copeland, county supervisor for the Farm Security Administration.

Pickaway County is one of 16 new Ohio counties selected by U. S. Department of Agriculture for the tenant-purchase program.

Only a limited number of loans will be available in the county for the purchase of farms this year, Copeland said. Applications which are received first will be given first consideration.

A county tenant purchase committee will be set up within a few days to handle applications and make recommendations to the Farm Security Administration.

"Any renter or farm labor family which cannot get the necessary credit elsewhere is eligible to apply for a tenant-purchase loan," Copeland said. "The loans are payable over a 40-year period at 3 percent interest. They provide for purchase of the farm plus repair and alteration of buildings and land development where necessary."

The farm security supervisor explained that it will be necessary for the applicant to locate the farm to be purchased, which must be of a "family type," capable of being operated without help other than the members of the family, except during short peak labor periods, such as the threshing or corn-picking seasons.

In addition to choosing a farm, the family must work out a sound farm and home management plan. Mr. Copeland and the county home management supervisor, Miss Ethel Coseo, will cooperate with families obtaining loans and help them work out these management plans.

No loan will be considered unless the farm can be purchased at a price corresponding to its ability to produce, provide an adequate income for the family, and "pay for itself" over the loan period.

Application may be made at the Farm Security Administration office at the Court House.

CADET EXAMINATIONS TO BE STAGED IN AUGUST

College credits in six subjects now exempt Army Aviation Cadet candidates from educational examination, it was revealed today at Fifth Corps Area Headquarters, Fort Hayes, Columbus.

Non-college men who apply for scholarships will be examined August 12, 13 and 14 in the larger cities of Ohio, Kentucky, West Virginia and Indiana in five required subjects (English, arithmetic, plane geometry, plane trigonometry and algebra) and in any two of five electives (modern languages, general history, American history, inorganic chemistry and physics).

College men who have credit for any two electives and any four required subjects or for all five required subjects and one elective are exempt from the examination which embraces courses taught in most high schools.

VILLAGE 'DADS' ORDER TRAFFIC LIGHT REMOVED

By S. D. Fridley
Ashville, Phone 79

Ashville Village Council, by a vote of 3 to 2, has ordered the Long Street traffic light removed, and service department officials have already taken it from its place.

Ashville—

Thursday, the local Methodist Sunday school will hold a picnic at the park. All are invited, but a well filled basket of eats should appear along with your presence. This same evening the ball diamond will be the scene of action between a Columbus colored team of soft ballers and local picked bunch.

Ashville—

Tuesday evening the Ed Irwin Insurance gang cleaned up the Millport Cubs in a sizzling hot game ballout, the score 2 to 1. This Wednesday evening the Gable Drags and Irwins will do battle for a dispute settlement. Gable and Irwin will do the pitching act for their respective teams.

Ashville—

Good news beats the other kind all out. Got some of the first named direct from the boys who get things done, yesterday evening. Plans are in the making right now to light the park grounds for night ball games. And along with this, these substantial backer boys, are doing the preliminary work for a swimming pool. And more: the prospects are really good for the first of those half-dozen new buildings we told you last Spring, we intended to have before Christmas. Too, a sizable real estate deal is in the making and will be completed in a couple of days.

Ashville—

And now about the mail-bid carrying job between the postoffice and the depot. Couldn't get head or tail about how things stacked up after bid time had closed. Couldn't get anybody to say a word, who had or hadn't put in a bid. But when the old mail cart went out for its run to the depot with Ed Pitt furnishing the motor power, we could tell by the squeak of the wagon that it was well loaded with something and by this, we are guessing there are an even dozen bids for the job and in Washington right now being looked over by Sammy. What's your gamble on who'll be it? Chance to win, 1 to 12. Beats numbers all out.

Ashville—

Mrs. N. E. Murphy recently entertained her bridge club. Those attending were Mrs. A. W. Graham, Mrs. Cecil Noecker, Mrs. C. E. Mahaffey, Mrs. Stanley Beckett, Mrs. Tom Acord, and Mrs. Harold Silbaugh. Mrs. Noecker received high score and with it the customary winner's prize. Mrs. Walter Hedges and Mrs. D. P. Courtney were unable to be present. The next meeting of the club will be held at Mrs. Noecker's home, July 30.

Ashville—

"Following the ponies" both literally and figuratively, applies to John Hudson who has been away from his home on Walnut Street for the last three months. Hudson has been employed in the concession department connected with several race tracks in Ohio. Beginning with the Beulah Park meet in April, Hudson moved with the concession force to Akron for a couple of weeks and thence to the track at Hamilton where he has been until the races closed last week. After a few weeks rest work will be resumed with the August-September run at Beulah Park where the equipment has been stored. John reported a very good meeting at Hamilton and not so good at Beulah and Akron due to rain storms before and during races which kept the usual crowds away from the parks.

NATURE PLUS TRAINING

DESPITE the desire of many young people in the last ten or twenty years to get into "white collar" jobs and the effort to prepare for them with college and other special training, there has remained in the public mind a curious distrust of book education as "impractical."

A newspaper writer was reminded again of this fact when he wrote recently that a hired girl "remains a hired girl" when she doesn't know any domestic science. Readers took him to task, hotly informing him that thousands of girls who never even heard of domestic science were better cooks and housekeepers than those who had studied it. They implied that such people were good because of their ignorance rather than in spite of it.

"It should be an axiom taught to all school children," the newspaper man answered, "that in all conceivable cases, the more you learn about your job the better you do it. To believe otherwise—to get the twisted notion that natural talent or technique gained empirically by trial and error is spoiled by the application of exact knowledge—is to overset the entire theory of education."

Perhaps our grandparents knew that. Their craftsmanship had to be sound because they could not go to a store to replace things easily. But speed has become a goal rather than good work, and so training and education can be sneered at even in an age of specialization and stiff competition.

TWO-PURPOSE GLIDING

THE annual glider meet at Elmira, N. Y., ran into unfavorable weather, and some of the planned events had to be canceled. There was evidence, however, that gliding had ceased to be merely sport and had become serious business to those attending. Its leaders are taking a long look ahead both to military uses and to commercial possibilities when the war is over.

Colonel Edward S. Evans of Detroit, a pioneer in sail-plane experiments, believes that gliders may be the trains of the future.

"When this emergency is over," he said at the closing banquet of the glider meeting, "I can foresee the day when great glider freight trains will cross the country at speeds of 100 to 200 miles an hour. It will be the fastest, cheapest and most satisfactory freight transportation the world has ever known."

No matter how practical it may become, however, gliding will remain chiefly a fascinating sport. It will have the same appeal as the sail boat and the canoe in a day of motored power and speed.

Rationing of new autos isn't so bad, for a lot of used cars are available. Besides, it'll be blessing to pedestrians to have the number reduced. Gasoline rationing will be fine, too, reducing the speed peril. Parentetically, I'm a 100 percent pedestrian. I've got a washing machine already. I use ice in my house, instead of an electric refrigerator and I don't need any machine tools. So Uncle Sam can limit that kind of production to his heart's content, for all I care.

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN

LIBERIA LOOMS AS OUTPOST

WASHINGTON—For just about one century the African Republic of Liberia has been a pain in the neck to the United States government. But now, at long last, it may justify the headaches it has caused in Washington. It may be another Iceland.

Liberia, meaning a "free country," was founded even before the Civil War by American negroes who sought to establish a free black republic and lead a movement "Back to Africa." The idea was encouraged by abolitionist leaders in New England, and the colony had an auspicious start.

However, American negroes transplanted to Africa later became slave-owners themselves, and established a lively trade selling their own brethren from the jungle to plantation owners.

This trade of blacks selling blacks got so bad that irate Henry L. Stimson, then Secretary of State, practically forced the resignation of the president of Liberia. Stimson stamped out the slave trade and Liberia has been fairly clean since.

Liberia always has been under the protection of the United States. Its government operates partly on funds borrowed from the U. S. government, and its customs are watched by a U. S. collector. A friendly U. S. gunboat drops in at its ports from time to time, and U. S. Minister Lester Walton, a Harlem newspaper editor, carries great weight in the affairs of the country.

Now suddenly, with the hasty Nazi supervised arming of French Dakar, Liberia is coming to have great importance. It is located south of Dakar in an area friendly to Great Britain and the United States and which could be used to protect the coast of South America.

For some time military strategists have driven home to the White House and State Department the very great importance of West Africa in preserving the Monroe Doctrine. For if a hostile army gains control of West Africa, the hop across the south Atlantic to Brazil and Uruguay is relatively easy for modern bombing planes.

The Vichy government has now openly admitted the arming of Dakar against the United States, and Free Frenchmen escaping from North Africa have reported that about 3,500 Nazi technicians were busy in Dakar and other parts of French Northwest Africa installing coast artillery and building air bases.

However, south of Dakar and near Liberia, de Gaulle Frenchmen are in control. Thus this part of equatorial Africa is being studied carefully as a base from which U. S. forces might operate to block Nazi operations against the Western Hemisphere.

NOTE—Since the fall of Ethiopia, Liberia is the only free country on the entire continent of Africa, and it has remained so only because of the United States.

Hundred Guests Enjoy Church Unit Silver Tea

Presbyterian Group Entertains At Watt Home

More than 100 guests called during the afternoon and evening periods Tuesday when Division 1 of the Presbyterian Church entertained at a Silver Tea at the home of Mrs. Donald H. Watt, North Court Street. Masses of lovely summer garden flowers, including many baskets of colorful gladioli and snapdragons, made the rooms of the Watt home a seasonal setting for the delightful affair.

The tea table in the dining room with its appointments of silver and crystal was centered with an artistic arrangement of blue and white double delphinium, pink rosebuds and baby breath in a crystal holder, flanked with tall white candles.

Mrs. Marvin Dreisbach, division chairman, and Mrs. Watt were assisted in receiving by Mrs. E. O. Crites, Mrs. Orin W. Dreisbach, Miss Mary May Haswell and Mrs. G. G. Campbell, who served in the afternoon, with Miss Mary Crites, Miss Ruth Robinson, Miss Bonita Hulse and Miss Eleanor Dreisbach serving in the evening.

Mrs. Felix Caldwell, Mrs. Turney Glick, Mrs. George Goodchild, Mrs. E. S. Roper and Mrs. E. E. Porter assisted in the dining room. Mrs. Charles Kiger, Mrs. Charles Naumann, Mrs. Charles Smith, Mrs. Harry Stevenson and Mrs. S. B. Chambers poured.

All members of the division served on the general committee for the outstanding social affair.

Auxiliary Picnic

The annual picnic meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary was held Tuesday at the summer home of Mrs. Erma Young of Scioto Township, where a representative group gathered for the evening.

A picnic dinner was served at 7 p.m. at a long table in the grove in front of the cottage.

Mrs. B. T. Hedges, auxiliary president, conducted the regular business meeting during the evening, receiving various reports from Mrs. John Ward, secretary, and Mrs. Robert Young, treasurer. Mrs. Orin W. Dreisbach, chairman of the community welfare project committee, reported that the proposed supervised recreation room for young people of high school age could not be established at the present time.

A short time was devoted to discussion of plans for attending the coming state convention to be held at Youngstown in August.

Mrs. Hedges appointed Mrs. Walter M. Stout chairman of the nominating committee with Mrs. James Stout and Miss Hilda Burns as the other committee members.

Members of the auxiliary will meet Thursday at 2 p.m. in the Post room, Memorial Hall, to count sales tax stamps.

Star Grange

A Juvenile order was organized Tuesday at the meeting of Star Grange. Mrs. Turney Glick, county juvenile matron, being in charge of the work. Mrs. C. M. Reid will head the juvenile grange.

Mr. Reid, worthy master, conducted the regular business session, four applications for membership being read. Mrs. Ben Grace, lecturer of Scioto Grange, invited Star grange to present a drill at the meeting of the Scioto Grange August 6, this session marking the "friendship night" of the organization.

Plans were discussed for the annual picnic of Star Grange which will be August 5 at Gold Cliff Park. Thirty-five grangers were present.

Refreshments were served by the hospitality committee including Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Brigner, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Porter, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Matthews. Mr. and Mrs. Glick of Washington Grange were present for the evening.

Shower Honors Bride

Mrs. Berman Fausnaugh, the former Ollie Calton of near Circleville, was honored at a miscellaneous shower recently at the home of Mrs. Wayne Hines of near Ashville. Miss Hulda Frazier was assisting hostess.

Games and contests were enjoyed throughout the evening. The many lovely and useful gifts for the bride were placed on the dining room table, the shower arrangements featuring a pink and white color theme. Garden flowers completed the decorations of the home.

Refreshments were served, the

CHAMPION CONGA

That flashing-eyed señorita, Lina Romay, will give "Daddy" a real workout in "Cugat Rumba Revue" Thursday, at 6:30 p.m. Other specialties by Xavier Cugat and his crew will include "Conga of the Dandies," winner of first prize in a recent Cuban Conga carnival; the popular "Mi Sombra" and one of the favorite Cugat novelties, "Toreador Song Conga."

GILBERT, SULLIVAN MUSIC

All summer long Frank Black has been getting requests for more Gilbert and Sullivan music on his Friday night concert series so on July 25 at 7 p.m., the maestro will oblige with selections from their "Pinafore" operetta. Songs to be heard are "We Sail the Ocean Blue," "A Maiden Fair to See," "When I Was a Lad," "I'm Called Little Buttercup" and "He Is An Englishman." Vocals on the program are by Lucille Manners and Rose Graham.

BAD SAMARITANS

A revised schedule moves "The Case of the Stolen Passport" up to this week on the "Mr. District Attorney" program and assigns "The Case of the Good Samaritans" for Wednesday, at 8:30 p.m. The alleged good Samaritans are actually racketeers who have evolved some new twists in the murder-for-insurance game. The D.A. is played by Jay Justyn with Vicki Vola and Len Doyle as his aides, risks life and limb to smash the ring.

RADIO BRIEFS

Kay Kyser's recording of Mere- dith Willson's "You and I" out this week, features the duet voice and wishes. This despite some opposition or lack of endorsement from superiors or employers. But elderly relatives and others in prestige and standing will be found ready to aid and abet meritorious and clever efforts or propositions. Be careful with papers and alert to petty losses. Important friendships or affiliations are encouraged.

A child born on this day should be unusually talented, have much stability and principle and should succeed brilliantly despite some opposition from high places.

Riddle to Take Mound in Quest Of 12th Victory

Brooklyn Unable To Stop World's Champs Who Score Five Runs In Ninth Inning

CINCINNATI, July 23—Elmer Riddle, Cincinnati's rookie hurling sensation, was to go after his 12th straight victory against the slipping Brooklyn Dodgers under the lights at Crosley Field tonight.

The Dodgers showed definite signs of a mid-season collapse yesterday as they blew a 4 to 0 lead in the last half of the ninth to enable the Redlegs to defeat them, 5 to 4. The loss shoved the Dodgers into a first-place tie with St. Louis.

Luke Hamlin had a shutout going into that last frame. Lonnie Frey opened the inning with a double and Frank McCormick promptly singled him home. Billy Werber walked and Hamlin made two more wide pitches to Dick West before he was waved to the showers.

Hugh Casey came in and completed the job of walking West and filling the bases. Chuck Aleno came up to the plate as a pinch-hitter and hit a lucky triple down the right-field foul line, scoring three runs and tying the score.

Bucky Walters, who was on the mound for the Reds and who is no mean slouch at the bat, strode up to the plate and hit a long fly to center field scoring the winning run. It was Walters' 12th victory of the season and moved the Reds into undisputed third place, nine games off the pace.

To oppose Riddle tonight, the Dodgers were expected to call upon Kirby Higbe.

Conn To Be Success In His Role As Actor

By Jack Mahon

LOS ANGELES, Cal., July 23—Memo to the boys along Jacobs Beach and all paid-up members of the fluttering hearts movie sororities of the nation: It looks like handsome Billy Conn, the kid with the face of a matinee idol and the fighting heart of a mugg, is a cinch to score a knockout in his debut on the silver screen.

We saw sweet William make the first dramatic sequence of "The Pittsburgh Kid"—at Republic Studios in Hollywood today and, to lift a phrase from one of the 73 assistant press agents we stumbled over, Billy "was slightly terrific."

Now we don't mean that Errol Flynn, Bob Taylor, George Raft and the other lads with the long hair and the looks have to start weeping into their lager with envy. But Billy for a guy who saw movie actresses only in picture books and in the corner picture-house back in Pittsburgh up until last week, did a swell job in a tough scene for a beginner today and Director Jack Townley was much impressed.

Strangely, Conn did his best work in a dramatic scene, and has had all his trouble with the fight sequences which open the picture. In one of these Billy is supposed to do everything wrong in a boxing drill, in order to discourage Jean Parker, his leading lady. Miss Parker, through a legal technicality, wants to manage Billy when her father, Conn's manager, dies early in the picture.

BRIGHT BY INSTINCT

Billy tried to walk into punches, dance the wrong way, use the wrong leads etc. But found himself shifting correctly, lifting his hands in rapid defensive maneuvers and doing all the things he wasn't supposed to do—by instinct.

He was supposed to walk into a right hand punch and get flattened—but Billy didn't know how to fall! He took three or four flops that almost broke his back and they made 35 takes of the scene before accepting it. And, at that, some trick photography had to be employed to make the fall look O.K.

The scene shot today took place in a fight dressing room. Billy, sitting on a rubber table is talking to a sports columnist when the phone rings. He is called to it and there learns the bad news that his faithful old manager has just died.

An experienced bit player, portraying the sports columnist "blew up" five times during the filming. Billy did it satisfactorily and didn't miss his lines once.

The set looked like a portion of that famous strip of New York's 49th Street known as Jacobs Beach. Promoter Mike Jacobs and his wife, Milton Jaffe, one of Conn's backers, Johnny Ray, Billie's manager, and a couple of sportswriters were in the audience.

"The acting itself isn't hard," continued Willie, "but it's those lights. And I have to shave every day."

We'd shave twice a day for the $1,500 per diem Willie is collecting.

Conn is having a good time but to little Johnny Ray every day is Christmas. Ray is like one of the Rover boys in Hollywood as he dashes around the set, grinning from ear to ear, boasting of his boy Billy's efforts.

"Look, you can see the effects of my teaching, already," he said. "Go on home, ya bum. You couldn't teach no one the right time," yelled Conn.

The publicity men revealed that Ray and Conn proved a great team when answering a prop questionnaire.

What is your suppressed desire? Conn was asked.

"To be a millionaire," answered Billy.

What is Billy's phobia, if any? they asked Ray.

"What's a phobia?" asked Johnny. "Listen, the people who read about Billy wouldn't know about that if he did have one."

ENVY TO VICHY 'VOICES TOKYO'S NEED FOR BASES

No Time Limit Disclosed;
Von Ribbentrop Meets

verge of an important decision.

TOKYO, July 23—Authoritative Japanese sources, according to the official news agency Domei, today branded as "pure fabrication" a Washington report to the effect that Japan has inaugurated censorship of press messages. Restrictions have merely been placed on the use of foreign languages in outgoing telegrams and telephone conversations, it was said.

TOKYO, July 23—A charge that the United States is "deliberately discriminating against Japanese vessels" by preventing them from passing through the Panama Canal was aired by the Japanese (Domei) news agency today.

According to the agency the accusation was set forth by "informal quarters" in the Japanese capital. Domei added:

"Some quarters assert the real reason is that the United States is attempting to prevent the Japanese from observing the nature of repairs now going on in the canal."

Official Japan Angry
The charges with regard to the Panama Canal—one of the most important of all United States strategic defense outposts—followed an editorial outburst in Japanese newspapers accusing American, British and Soviet diplomats of "trying to form a united front against Japan."

This in turn followed an official Japanese warning that Tokyo would take "immediate measures" to counter any British military move in French Indo-China.

Japanese newspapers declared Britain, by assigning Alfred Duff Cooper to a Far Eastern mission, and by strengthening Singapore's defenses, was assuming leadership in the alleged front against Nippon and thus creating a "disturbance in Japan's Far Eastern policy."

(The Singapore radio, according to a Reuters dispatch, broadcast an official denial of Japanese reports that British forces had violated the Indo-China frontier, or were preparing to "invade" Indo-China. Shanghai reports, meanwhile, told of Japanese troop mobilizations along the Soviet Siberian borders and at other strategic centers in the Far East.)

Typical of Japanese press comment was an editorial by the newspaper Yomiuri which said British Far Eastern policy is "becoming more active."

The paper declared the mission of Duff Cooper replaced a few days ago as British information minister, to prepare "cooperation with the Soviet Union" in support of the anti-Japanese government of Chinese Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

Toyoda Sees Envoy

Vice Admiral Teijiro Toyoda, the new Japanese foreign minister, who has promised to live up to the spirit and aims of the tripartite axis pact, held a two-hour conference with Mamoru Shigemitsu, Japanese ambassador to Britain who returned to Tokyo Sunday. They discussed the European situation with special reference to Britain and her position in the war.

(Editor's Note: In London the Daily Express stated in a Shanghai dispatch that reports from North China and Manchukuo indicate Japan is concentrating a large force at points dominating Russia's Far Eastern frontier. The dispatch said Japanese living at Shanghai have been ordered to report for mobilization to replace the regular formations now en route north.)

(The London News Chronicle said Japan is likely to take action to obtain control of naval and air bases in French Indo-China before the end of this week, according to information reaching London.)

The paper said it was believed Anglo-American discussions regarding steps to be taken in such an event had ended in complete agreement.)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23—Drastic restrictions have been placed by the Japanese government on radio and cable messages to Japan, it was revealed in San Francisco today by RCA communications officials.

The new rules, effective immediately and applying to all trans-Pacific services, include the following:

1—Only official business or distress messages may be sent to Japanese ships at sea.

2—Only the Japanese, English, or German language will be permitted in non-code messages to any part of the Japanese empire.

3—Code messages may be sent only to Tokyo, Yokohama, Kobe, and Osaka, and only six standard codes are permitted.

4—The recipient's full name and

"The Gentleman from Indiana"

NATIONAL GROUPS AND THE WAR

The Chicago Tribune has just concluded a poll on the question "Shall the United States enter the war to help Britain defeat Hitler?" It was taken by sending a reply postcard to every tenth registered voter. The poll therefore reached a much larger number than do the Gallup, Fortune or other polls.

In the City of Chicago the Tribune reports the percentage favoring the United States entering the war as 18.36 and the percentage opposed as 80.79.

Chicago is said to have the largest population of German origin of any city in the world outside of Germany itself. As this fact is being used to argue that the no-war vote in Chicago is a pro-Nazi vote, it is Czecho-Slovaks, English, Norwegians, Jugo-Slavs, Danes and French. These total 987,417. In the column theoretically opposed to the United States entering the war would be put the Germans, Italians, and Irish Free State,—these total 799,861.

If the theory of voting along lines of national origin were valid we should have a percentage of 54.7 of these groups favoring United States entry into the war. As against that, according to the Tribune, the actual percentage in the whole city favoring United States entry into war is only 18.36.

The population of the City of Chicago of course exceeds the total of 1,787,278 foreign born, or with one or both parents foreign born. There are a large number of Negroes and, of course, the largest group of all are native born Americans whose parents came from Europe so far back that they are no longer classed in the census along lines of national origin.

This fact, however, demonstrates that there is no such thing as people voting in groups along lines of national origin. No doubt some do. It is hard for Irish Americans to forget British absentee landlordism in Ireland. It is hard for Polish Americans to forget the repeated partitions of Poland by Germany and Russia. It is plain, however, that these American citizens, native born or naturalized, generally think and vote as Americans and not as hyphenated Europeans. This is a tribute to the essential patriotism of the various national groups comprising so much of the population of our large industrial cities.

If the theory were true that Americans of European ancestry vote along lines of their national origins, it would seem fair to put in the pro-war column persons coming from countries in Europe which Germany is now fighting or has overrun. These are the Poles, Russians, North of Ireland, etc.

Even assuming that this number was unanimously opposed to the United States entry into war, which is obviously false, as illustrated by the attitude of Mr. Willkie, where then come the persons who make up the difference between this 22 percent and the 80.79 percent shown by the Chicago Tribune poll as opposed to entry into the war? Obviously, they came from Poles, Russians, Irish, Czecho-Slovaks, English, Jugo-Slavs, Danes, French and Others also charged that the real instigators of the committee were Matthew Woll, AFL Vice President, and Robert Watt, AFL international representative, chairman and executive secretary of the committee. Americans and eager to be in the limelight, both Woll and Watt have been miffed at not landing top defense jobs.

After listening to the fiery blast of Bricklayer Bates, the caucus decided unanimously (1) that Hillman and his labor advisory committee were doing an efficient job.

All libraries and their many readers will endorse the above quotation from A. M. Boyd's introduction to her recent book United States Government Publications.

This book is a revision (practically rewritten) of the first edition published in 1931, to include agencies in existence as of July 1940.

With over 5,000 different publications of widely differing merit available annually, the problem of selection is of paramount importance to most librarians. For this reason Miss Boyd describes many of the more important documents.

The general arrangement of her book follows that of the organization of the government itself; namely by legislative, judicial, and executive branches, then by major divisions under each, including many, many independent establishments. Such information is included concerning their organization and functions as is of value in understanding the nature of their publications.

These figures show plainly that opposition to American entry into the war cannot be put upon grounds of national origin. For if these 729,404 of German, Italian and Irish ancestry were disfranchised from voting entirely, the vote would still be overwhelmingly opposed to our entry into the war.

It is reasonable to believe that a similar analysis in other large cities like Detroit, Milwaukee, St. Louis, Boston and New York would prove the same thing.

Railroad to Spend $30,000 Strengthening Scioto Span

Three Month Job Under Way On Pennsylvania Rails West Of City

TRAFFIC TO CONTINUE
40 Foot Concrete Piling Being Driven To Hold New Abutment

A bridge repair project, estimated to cost $30,000, has been started by the Pennsylvania Railroad at the Scioto River crossing west of Circleville.

The building program is expected to take three months to complete. It consists of installing a new span at the east end of the Scioto River bridge. The new span will increase the length of the 4-span bridge by about 55 feet.

Iron work for the span will weigh about 250 tons according to John P. Inglesby, Chicago, superintendent of the Strobel Construction Company crew of 15 men now working on the bridge.

Workmen now are driving 40 foot concrete piling at the east end of the bridge to support the new abutment. The piling are 16 inches in diameter. Twenty-seven of them will be driven into the ground and a 20 foot by 14 foot concrete pier constructed around them to support the east end of the new bridge span.

Traffic Goes On

While the construction work is going on, wood piling will be driven into the river bed to support the rails so that trains may continue to pass over the bridge. Trains are expected to pass over the river uninterrupted while the new span is being built.

Iron work for the span, including ten panels 17 feet long, will be brought to Circleville within the next few weeks. The material was taken from another bridge.

When the new span has been completed Pennsylvania employees will remove 200 cubic yards of dirt from beneath the bridge, thereby straightening the stream bed of the Scioto River to prevent the current from cutting into the embankment.

Principal equipment now being used on the project consists of a 30 ton crane and a four ton pile driver. All but two of the fifteen men working on the job are from the Circleville community.

The old bridge span to be removed has been there since 1885. The new span will leave the Pennsylvania tracks in good repair to handle the heavier traffic which is expected because of the National Defense program.

NON-RESIDENT HUNTING LICENSES ARE RECEIVED

Non-resident hunting licenses arrived at the Clerk of Courts' office in the Court House Wednesday and were placed on sale immediately.

Non-resident licenses this year cost $15. The fee previously charged was the same amount as that charged by the state of which the applicant was a resident.

Not many non-resident licenses are sold in the county, Clerk of Courts A. L. Wilder said. Two were sold last year.

May Plead "Unwritten Law"

Maurice Briggs

Betty Briggs

DEFENSE counsel for Maurice Briggs, 26, on trial in Los Angeles on a charge of murdering Nat Rosenberg, a rug factory manager, may plead the "unwritten law," it was indicated. Briggs declared that Rosenberg came between him and Mrs. Briggs, bringing about their separation, by forcing his attentions on the young wife. Both had been employed in Rosenberg's factory at time of their estrangement.

VILLAGE CHILD, 26 INJURED AS 9, CONFESSES HE YOUTH DRIVES STARTED FIRES AUTO IN CROWD

COLUMBUS, July 23—Nineteen-year-old Donald Hedrick of nearby Canal Winchester was held in the juvenile detention center today after allegedly admitting having set the fire which destroyed the Hedrick home and fatally burned his four-year-old half-sister, Mary Lucille.

Officials said Donald also admitted setting two other fires which kept the town in an uproar all yesterday. Mary Lucille, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hedrick, died as she sought to escape the dense smoke and fell on the flaming floor of an upstairs bedroom.

Although a passing motorist climbed up a ladder and rescued the four-year-old girl, she was dead on arrival at a Columbus hospital.

Coroner Edward E. Smith said Donald admitted firing the Hedrick home and two other buildings in Canal Winchester. Donald was suspected, Coroner Smith said, after he appeared at the Canal Winchester Times for a second time yesterday to report a fire.

Previously to the blaze at the Hedrick home, fires had broken out in the garage of the David's Reformed Church parsonage and at the Brown Bros. Paint Co., where damage totaled $1,300. Damage to the Hedrick home was estimated at $1,500.

OUR WAY of re-roofing is the safest way of all. First we go over your old roof and nail down thoroughly all loose and broken shingles and fill up all open places. Then we apply genuine Logan-Long slate-surfaced shingles right over the old roof—and it's on to stay. In this method of re-roofing, the interior of your home is not exposed to rain and weather, as it would be if the old shingles were first ripped off. Our way is quicker, neater, safer. And it saves you money in two ways: First, there is no labor cost in taking off the old shingles. Second, you save on heating bills, because your old roof stays on and helps insulate your home against cold. Also, it helps keep the sun's heat out in summer. But let us give you more information about this modern way of re-roofing: phone us now.

Athletic Club Members At Organization Meeting Slash Dues

Circleville Athletic Club members met in their new club rooms in the Bales Building Tuesday night, nominated and elected new officers and made plans for future activity of the club.

John Heiskell was elected president of the new organization; Morris Gordon, vice-president; Ned Hitchcock, secretary-treasurer and John Laughlin, sergeant of arms.

Following the election, the new officers were authorized by club members to draw up the new constitution and by-laws. Among the changes in the rules of the club will be a reduction of dues from 75 to 50 cents monthly. Meetings will be held every month and the club rooms will be open at all times for members. Tentative date for the next meeting was set for August 19.

The Athletic Club moved to its new location on the second floor of the Bales Building on East Main Street July 1 after selling its property on East Main Street to the Zinn Company in Columbus.

Charles Horvath and Kenneth Kearney, representatives of a Columbus amusement company remodeling the old CAC buildings, announced early this week that their firm would spend $35,000 in reconstruction of the club gymnasium, making it into a ten-drive bowling alley and establishing a restaurant in the building.

CHRISTMAS IN JULY?: IT'S TRUE AT BUTCH'S

If you want to get away from Summer heat and have a good imagination, here is a suggestion. Start thinking about Christmas.

If you need some help to think of Christmas, L. M. Butch Co., jewelers, have decorated a Christmas window at their store at 163 West Main Street featuring old Santa Claus surrounded by hundreds of Christmas gifts.

Santa, wearing his furs and heaviest suit to keep warm, is standing beside a calendar which shows that it is only five months or 130 shopping days until Christmas.

This novel Christmas window in July is L. M. Butch Co.'s method of announcing the opening of the 1941 Christmas Lay-a-way Club.

Pickaway County Outdoors

The pheasant distribution for Pickaway County for this year has been planned as follows:

Nine townships of the county which are larger or possess better pheasant habitat will receive more birds than the other townships. In February and in June a total of 147 mature birds were released. Approximately 800 birds will be released from the 4-week-old birds which are received largely from the Harlow Project in Newark. In addition to these releases about 250 9-week-old birds will be received from the State Game Farm at Urbana. Thus, there will be a total of approximately 1,200 birds released in the county this year.

The larger townships and those possessing better pheasant habitat will receive approximately 86 birds while the other townships will receive approximately 66 birds.

The distribution in each township will be in general charge of the township director, an official of the Farmers and Sportsmen's Association.

Instead of releasing birds in many townships when a lot of birds is ready for release a block of townships will receive its full quota as far as possible.

Last Sunday the first young pheasants were ready for release and the first block of townships, which block had been decided by lot, consisting of Madison, Walnut, Circleville and Washington, received the full quota, with exception of Walnut which did not receive its complete quota because there were not enough birds in the lot ready for release.

Walnut's total will be completed at the next distribution. At the next release Deercreek, Muhlenberg, Monroe, and Perry Townships will receive their quotas as far as possible.

Evidence obtained by the Ohio Division of Conservation and Natural Resources shows that fish stocked by the Division are easier to catch in the Spring than those stocked in the Fall.

A summary of 1,863 fish tags returned from all parts of the State, including adult smallmouth black bass, largemouth black bass, rock bass, walleyed pike, crappies, bluegills, channel catfish and suckers, shows that the European starling, now one of Uncle Sam's unwanted guests, has run afoul of the law in one greater portion of the tagged fish.

EVERYWHERE YOU GO They Satisfy

released in the spring are usually caught within one month and a large part are taken during the first week after being released.

The same species of adult fish stocked in the fall are very rarely ever caught the first week and most of them are taken from four to nine months later. After the first year stocked, tagged fish are seldom heard from.

Channel catfish placed in headwater streams throughout the state immediately start to move downstream and may travel long distances while those planted in big waters may move with the current but not as far as the catfish released upstream.

With few exceptions the bulk of stocked fish travel downstream with the current. Dams up to 65 feet high will slow up their movements but will not necessarily stop them. Positive evidence shows that spring released breeder smallmouth black bass and rock bass may spawn in their new environment and these fish may deposit eggs if suitable breeding areas are available or provided for them.
